Cecil and Karen,
I believe Mark Ferrell forwarded this to you yesterday; please let me know if he did.

If he did not, here is the CDC response to the Senator Rockefeller letter. As you will see in Linda Miller's email below, CDC would like EPA's review and comment. If we do not have any additional information to add, then CDC could sign the letter itself and EPA can send a cover letter transmitting the CDC response to Senator Rockefeller. Linda Miller is looking for our input on how to proceed.

I have attached the original control for your information.

Please review and let me know as soon as possible whether we have any changes or additions and what we want to do about signing the letter.

Thanks,
Ken

Attached is a CDC draft response to Sen. Rockefeller's February letter to CDC and EPA. CDC is asking for EPA review and comment.

If EPA does not have any additional information to add, we might consider having only CDC sign the letter (this is a draft, CDC staff said they would add an EPA signature block once it has been further reviewed), and EPA can send a separate cover letter transmitting the CDC response because they are the federal health agency.

Please circulate this draft only to appropriate reviewers. Thanks! Linda
